The screenshot shows the AERA-net.jp website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the site logo and social media links. Below this, a main article titled "私はバリアフリー婚" (I got married barrier-free) is displayed, featuring a photo of a bride and groom. To the right of the main article is a sidebar with several news items, including "震災と鉄道 全記録" (Earthquake and Railway Full Record) and "2012年春期 大学公開講座特集" (Spring 2012 University Open Lecture Special). The main article text describes a wedding ceremony at the Aihara Hall in Aomori, where the bride and groom exchanged rings and vows in front of friends and family.
